THE 1969 ECHO

CARDINAL BRENNAN HIGH SCHOOL

FOUNTAIN SPRINGS, ASHLAND, PENNSYLVANIA

CLASSES 8 • ACTIVITIES 25 • SPORTS 37 • SENIORS 49

The development of a school is a combination of growth in size and in responsibility. Growth in the size of a school depends on the increase of the enrollment. Last September, Cardinal Brennan High School came into existence through the merger of Shenandoah Catholic High School and Immaculate Heart High School. The school was renamed after Francis Cardinal Brennan, of Shenandoah, whose dedication to God was an inspiration to the people of the area.

Growth in school enrollment also means growth in responsibility for the students. Because of the larger number of students attending the school, more is asked of the individual. Cardinal Brennan High School can grow only through efforts from within, from the source that is the student body.

To make the school a good one, we must listen to the echo of traditions, and meet current and future challenges.

CLASSES

TO INCREASE IN SIZE, QUANTITY, OR DEGREE, OR IN SOME SPECIFIED MANNER.

"DO YOU WANT TO HEAR the one about the flood?" asks James McGraw of other members of the Religion I class.

IF ANNE MARIE CICKAVAGE, Edward Donovan and Dorothy Catizone think la craie is sticky, wait till they get French IV!

"AND HERE WE HAVE THE LATEST model slide rule in the super-deluxe Jolly Green Giant size," explain John Gulden and Christopher Ives to freshman IPS class.

MARIE CHIKOTAS points out to an attentive Algebra I class the correct way to solve a problem.

FRESHMEN

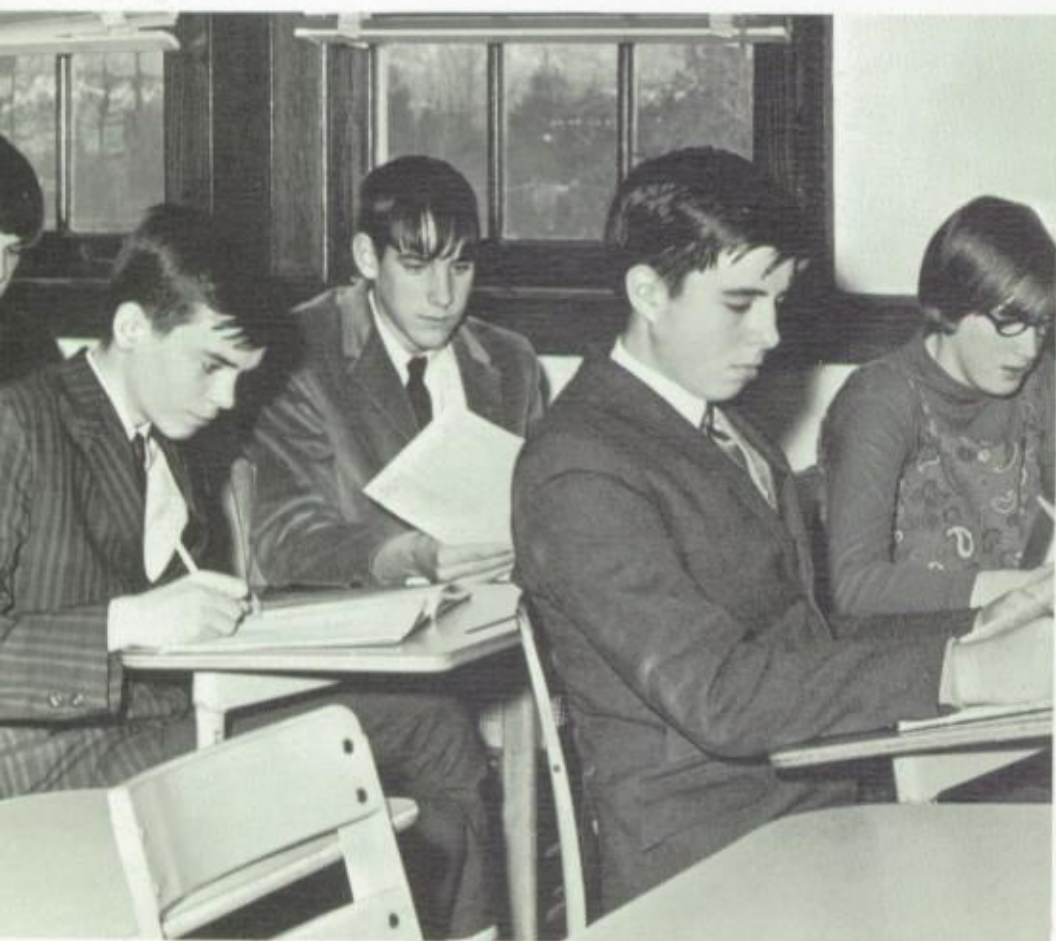

"I STILL SAY BILL SHAKESPEARE was right!" argues Patrick Palmer with Mary Neary, while the rest of English I class take sides.

MR. FATORA reads from Scripture at the dedication of the newly-named Cardinal Brennan High School.

"I THINK DYLAN ENUNCIATES better than Henry Wadsworth Longfellow did," comments Joseph Medlinsky to fellow English I associates.

COULD WILLIAM FATORA (center) be sharing the "fruits" of his dad's Algebra I class tests with John Gulden, Chris Ives, Robert Selgrade and Cynthia Shearn in Developmental Reading?

AN INFORMAL CHAT with Sister Madeleine Joseph during open house provided parents with a rest after climbing those exhausting stairs.

"I'M GLAD THEY KNOW what they're doing," says Dennis Kozak. Harry Travis and Ann Marie Madden learn what it's like to perform an operation mini-style.

"NOW, IF WE TOOK ROUTE 14 . . ." ponders Michael Haley to Jackie Kleeman, Patrick Palmer and Mary Neary, in World History class.

MRS. RUSNOCK'S freshman biology class witness another famous heart transplant.

"MY LITTLE BROTHER would love these!" Maureen Lavelle tells Kay O'Connor, as Daniel Saluta and Drew Toborowski discuss geometric forms.

EACH DAY OFFERS SOME OPPORTUNITY to progress. Participating in French II are Cynthia Leschik and Christine Gaborek.

Below Left:
MOLLY DALTON LAUGHS off Excedrin Headache #99, the opening schoolbag.

"WOULD YOU LIKE all of your names on one slip, or shall I make out separate ones?" Mother James Marita might be asking sophomores William Cuff, Claire Dando, Janet Garvey, Ann Karas, Drew Toborowski and Constance Utaris.

SOPHOMORES

LINDA JOHNSON and EUGENE PALUKIS show that there aren't too many school days to go, but Jonas Smith says that in English or in Latin II, there are always too many.

"IF ANYBODY MAKES ME LAUGH again, that's the end of my reading," Evelyn Koons warns the rest of the English II class.

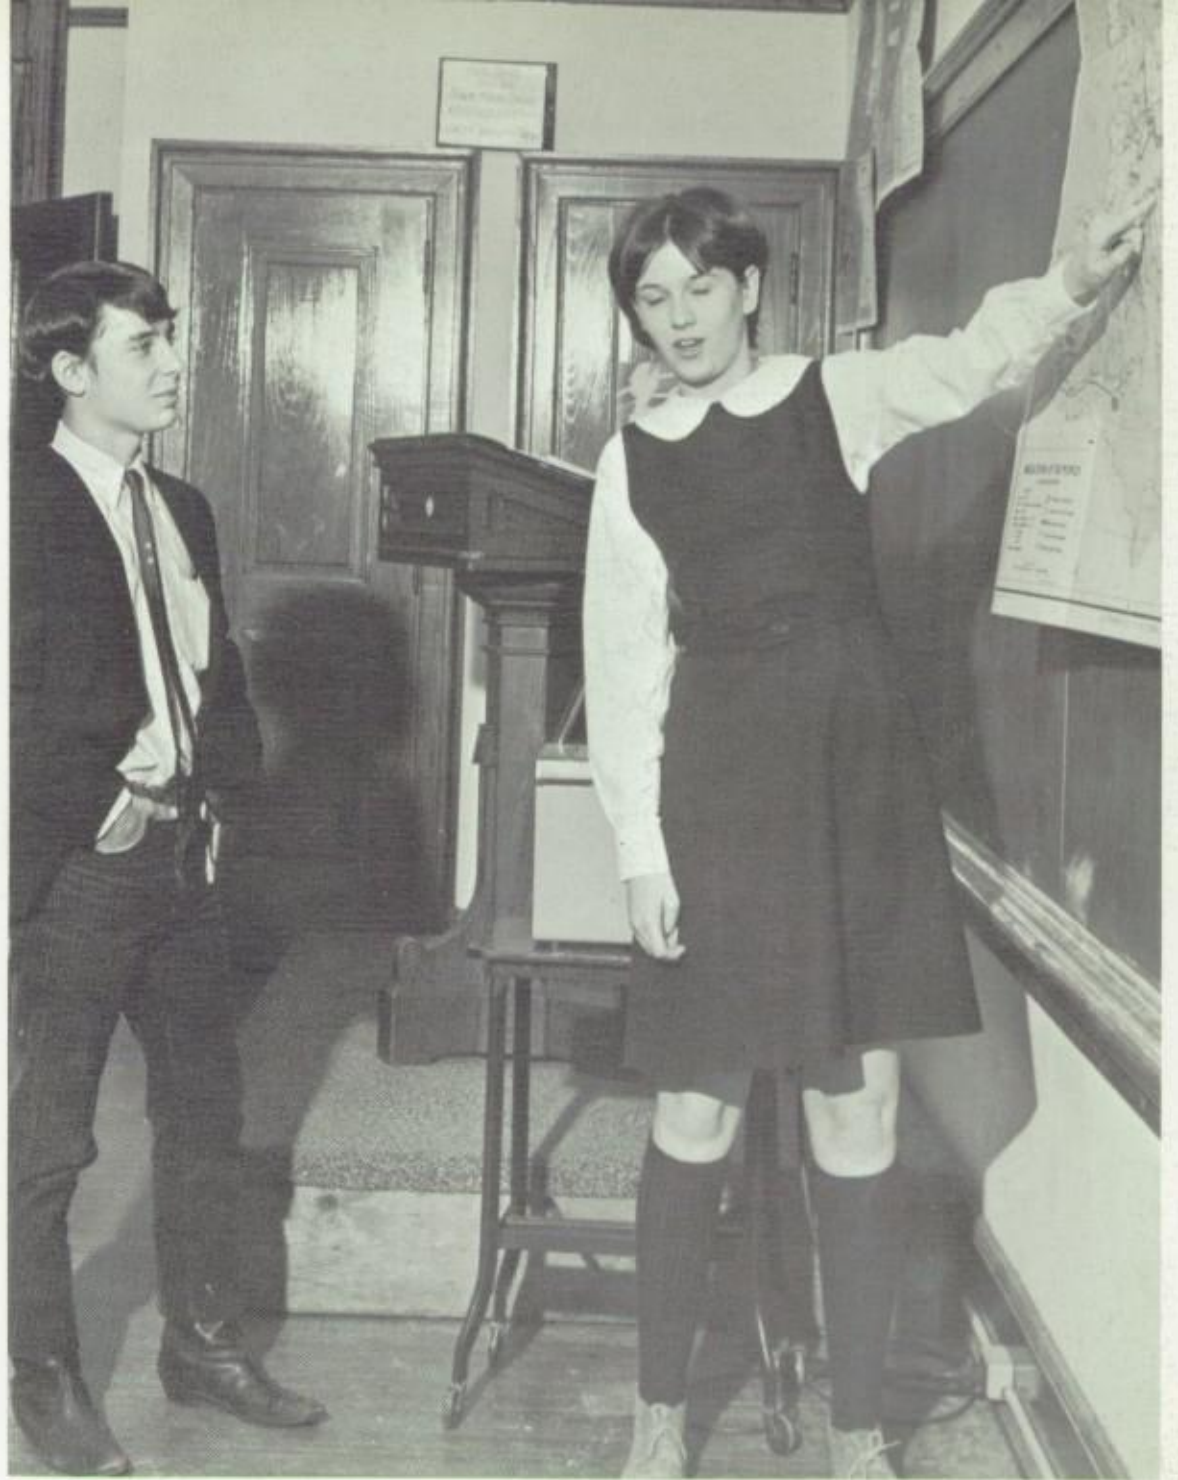

TERRI CONWAY LATE AGAIN, as Keith Altiero and Daniel Saluta seem to have been a little prompter.

ELEANOR HALE and RICK LORADY watch Adam (Tom Squires) and Eve (Virginia Merchlinsky) fight over the apple in Religion II class.

"NEXT YEAR, they'll all be victories," thinks sophomore Rosemary Ulceski, positively.

"I CAN FIND IT with my eyes closed; watch," says Peggy Dunleavy to Robert Steiff and other World Cultures scholars.

"GEORGE SCHILLING'S VICTORY SIGN won't get him too far in Spanish II," thinks Max Rizzardi, as Rose Ann Neiss tries to answer Cathy Scheuren's question.

CARDINAL BRENNAN'S ONLY STUDENT.

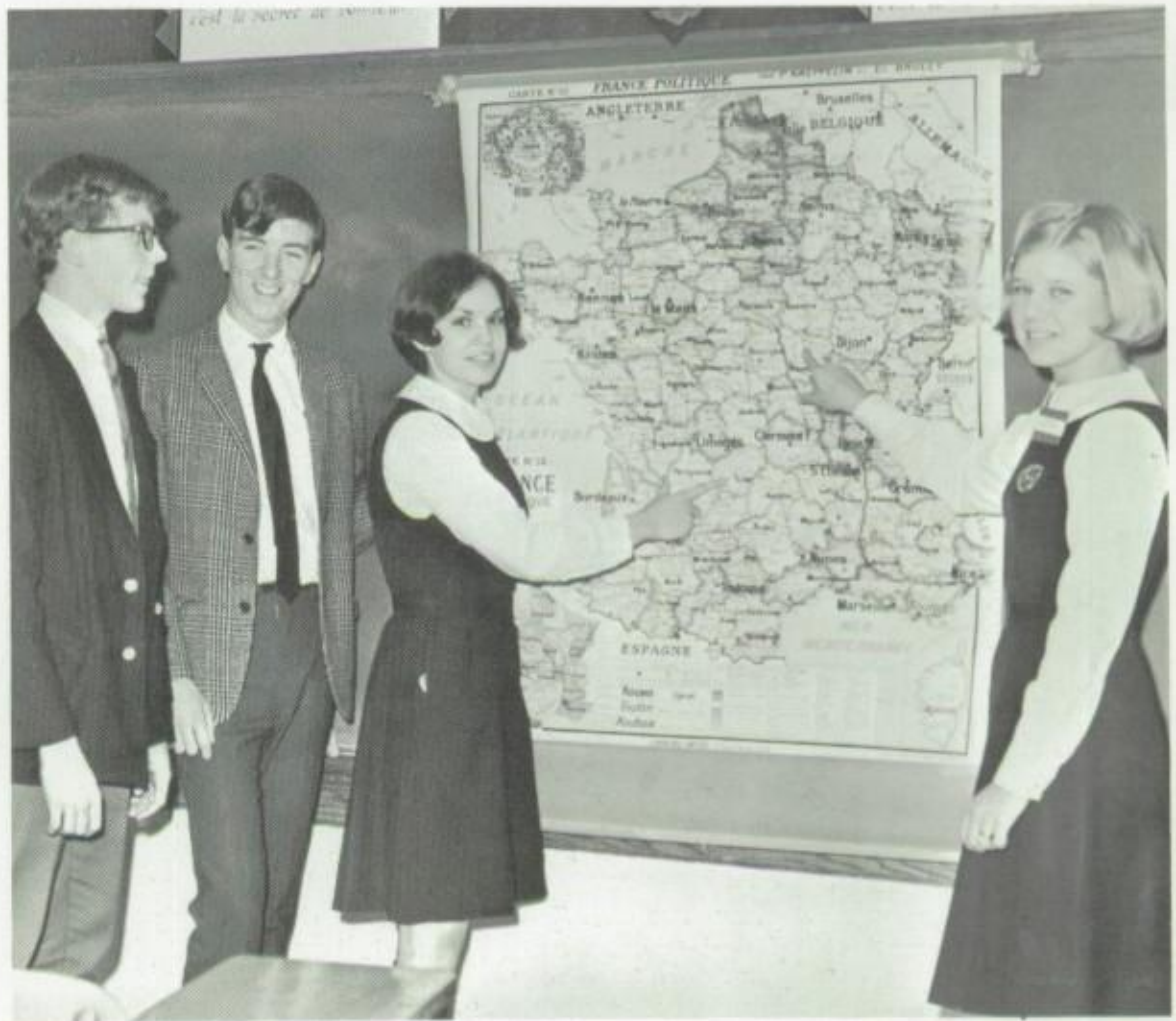

FATHER DANUSIAR and Cheryl Zaremba point out symbols in Byzantine ikons to Joseph Salukas and Religion III group.

JUNIORS

"1, 2, 3 . . . all together, now!" Sister Marita Cecilia conducts.

JAMES MELNICK and ROBERT McCORMICK smile at Mary Welikonich and Joann Chikotas's efforts to find New York in France.

LARRY O'NEILL to JAMES ENNIS in Chemistry class: "Now, when I say three, run!"

SISTER MARIA DAVIDICA holds the attention of the entire U.S. History class . . . well, almost entire. Dennis Dougherty catches up on his reading.

ROSEANNE CHUPASKO CONTEMPLATES what it would be like to be queen. Edward Ulceski, Kathleen Scheuren, Cynthia Leschik and James Muldowney assist in the production of Macbeth.

YOU TRIED, FATHER AL, but we know your studies aren't what they should be. Kevin Dougherty and Allan Kehler like them, though.

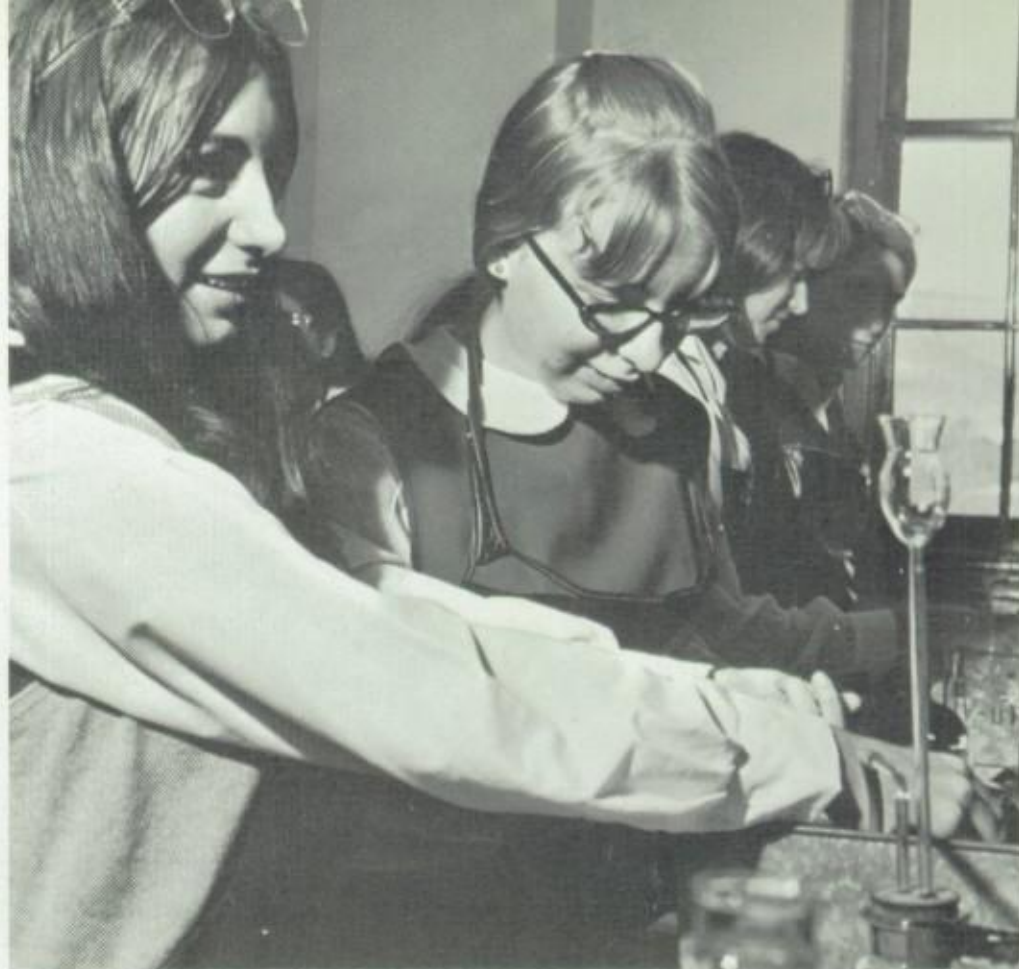

PAT MATTU'S EXPRESSION reflects the mood in the chemistry lab.

CAMILLE WALAKONIS WONDERS if she can tell time in English, let alone Spanish I.

"WHAT'S THE ANSWER to number 3?" Eileen Sincavage asks of George Caton as Rose Poploski ponders her own problem, in Bookkeeping.

DENNIS SIERDINSKI doesn't miss a thing in Steno I class.

"YOUR GUESS is as good as mine," says Mary Ann Fesco to Rose Anne Dantas.

EUGENE PALUKIS CAN'T BEAR TO WATCH Tom Ferrari working with both hands.

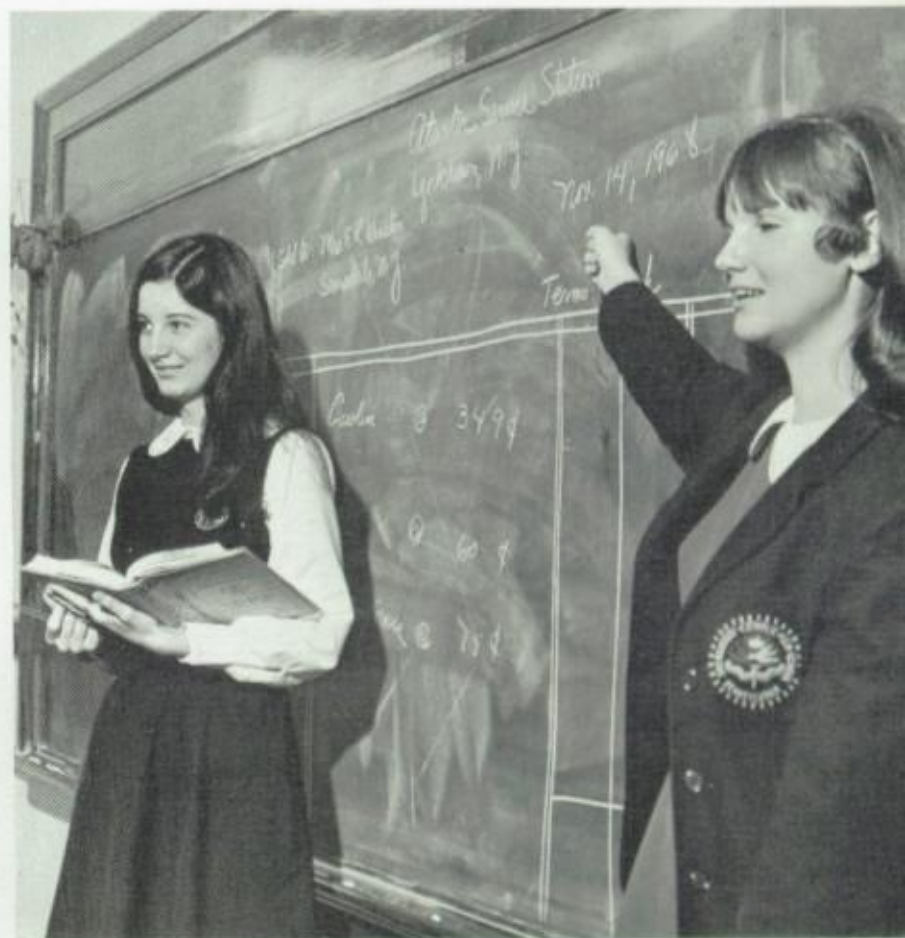

NO MATTER HOW HARD YOU TRY, you never get the right answer. Matthew Miller, John Blase and James Hughes seem to agree.

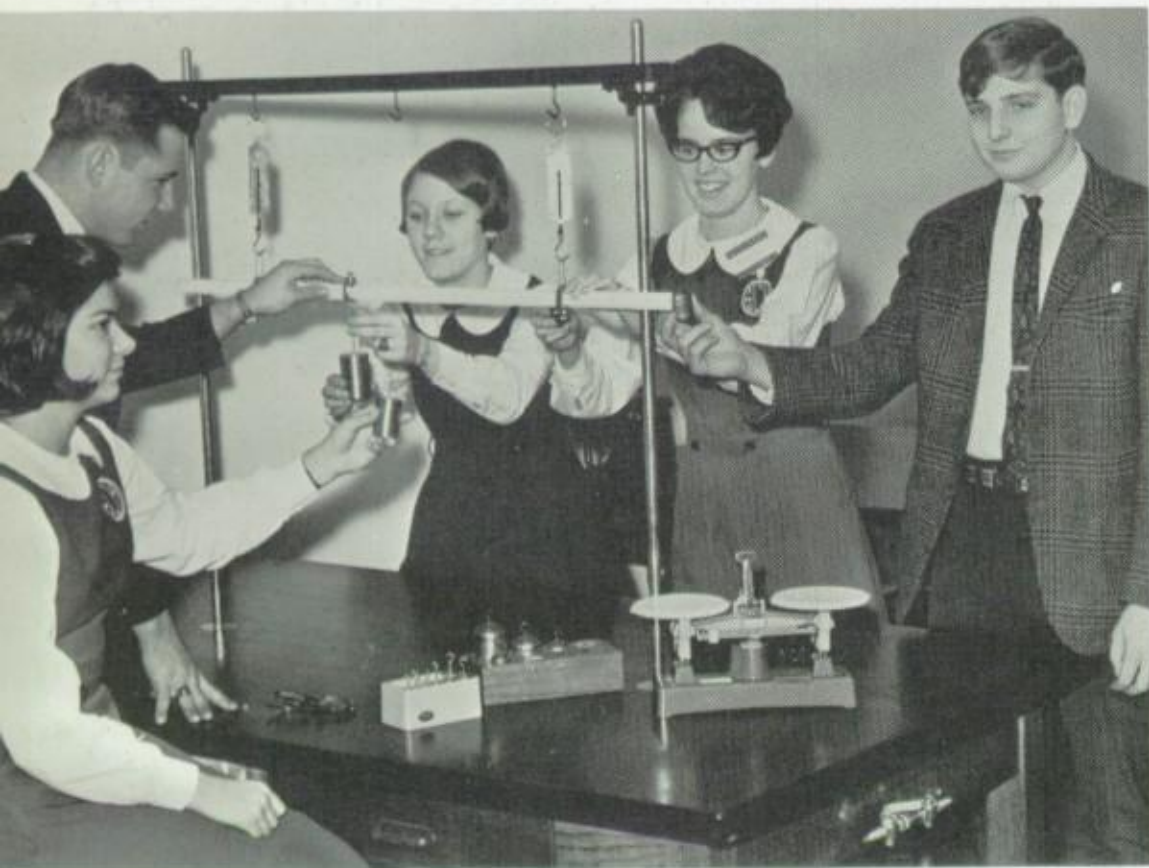

ADDING MACHINES BEAT counting on your fingers, James Cunningham thinks. Margaret Derr, Loretta O'Connor, Sue O'Hearn and Barbara Bikowski are too busy with other duties in Typing II to notice.

BARBARA BIKOWSKI and SUSAN McMANUS try to figure out basics of Business Math.

SENIORS

WHILE MARINA VERNALIS, Patricia Butler, Joseph Stinolis and Sharyn Morgan work to prove that clockwise-counterclockwise, Anthony Piccolo decides to stick to his faithful watch.

MARY ELLEN GAUGHAN and Mary Grasso engrossed in French III.

WHAT WAS THAT about multiplying freight cars? Ask any one of Father Butler's Religion IV classes. How about it, Ann Neary?

CHIEF ARCHITECTS of Cardinal Brennan Mike Wallauer, John Setevage, Robert Grebloski, William Rudiman and Joe Horan in Mechanical Drawing.

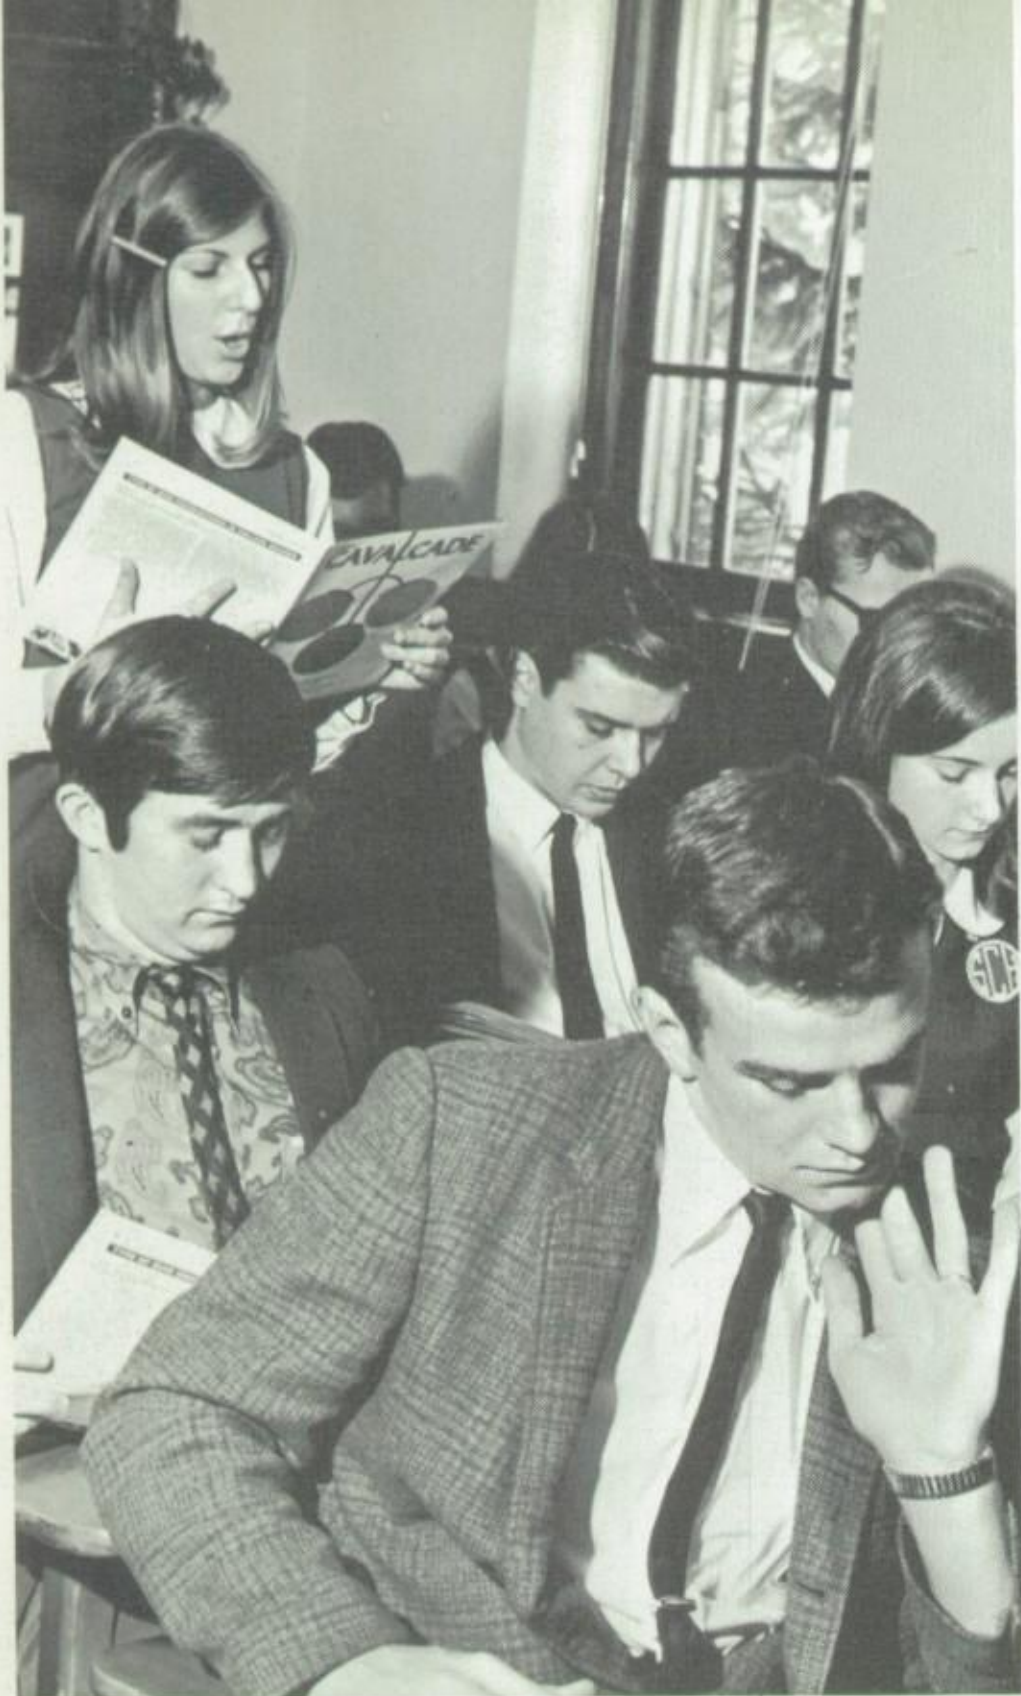

TOM FLANNERY, M.D. (mechanical drawer) designs a new floor plan for Gotchie's.

"O.K., GUNDO, explain it one more time," says Roseann Bronakowski to Joe Gunoskey, in Advanced Math class. Patricia Butler couldn't care less, but something has Paul's attention.

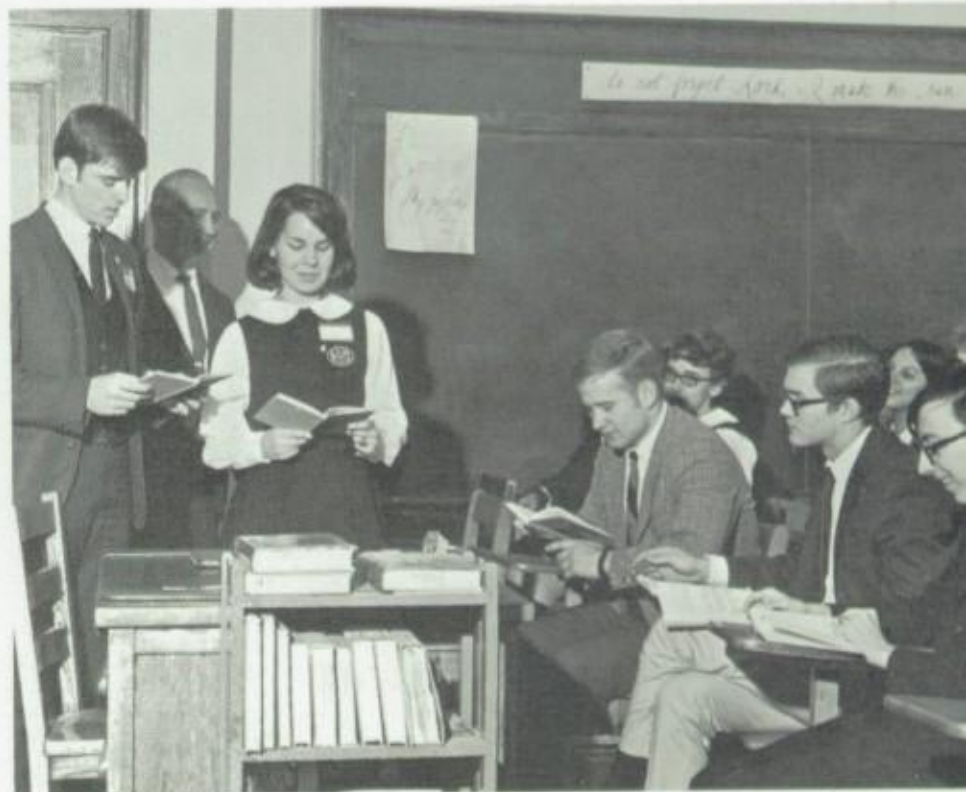

JUDY TOBOROWSKI and DON WOOD plan a budget in Mr. Fatora's General Math class, but Edward Walukonis. . . .

"AND THE GREAT BIG BEAR said to the little baby bear . . ." Teresa Karas explains the facts of the story to an English IV class.

"HOW DO YOU TRANSLATE the next line?" Edward Bradshaw asks Anne Marie Walsh as the rest of Mr. Fatora's French IV class also wonders.

TERRY HEISER, Jane Yarnell and members of POD class catch up on current news.

ANNE MARIE McGOWAN, Karen Sosna and Joseph Donovan find Michael Gerrity's idea of where Mexico is amusing in this Geography class.

ASDF JKL; Maureen Conway, Martin Cuff, Aliceann Bodman and the Typing I class move ahead.

CHARLIE GOUGH HAS TO THINK this one over, as Kathy Kosty and Frank Selgrade await his answer in Trig class.

"DO YOU THINK we can get the new Cream album to listen to next time?" Cookie Mekosh asks Kathy Kleeman, while Maryann Blase checks her Steno II homework.

MR. SHANER tells Sister Mater Alma and Mr. Kempsey, "Wait'll they really get to know us!"

WOULD YOU BELIEVE it doesn't work unless you use nickels? Kathy Norris would.

"NOW, THAT'S NOT A FAIR TRADE," points out Mr. Shaner to Father Handges and Miss Reichwein.

"IF YOU GO DOWN TO A DIME, I might consider it." Virginia Bann tries to outtalk Ray Madden in the Campie Shop. Frank Woodward has an easier time selling a folder to Jerome Eye.

CHRIS IVES' poster wins at the pep rally.

MIKE WALLAUER, Mike Dwyer and Joe Donovan lend a hand with the books as school re-opens.

MY FAIR LADY

"WE DID IT!" exclaims Colonel Pickering (George Schilling) to Professor Higgins (Paul Domalakes).

"OH, MRS. 'IGGINS, what am I going to do?" Eliza (Nina Pappas) asks Mrs. Higgins (Anne Marie Walsh).

"IF I TOLD YOU ONCE, I told you twice . . . 'Liza's a lydy now," cockney Mike Wallauer tells James Pancheri, Diane Makarewicz and Charlie Steinhilber.

"BUY A FLOW'R FR'M A POOR GEL," urge the chorus.

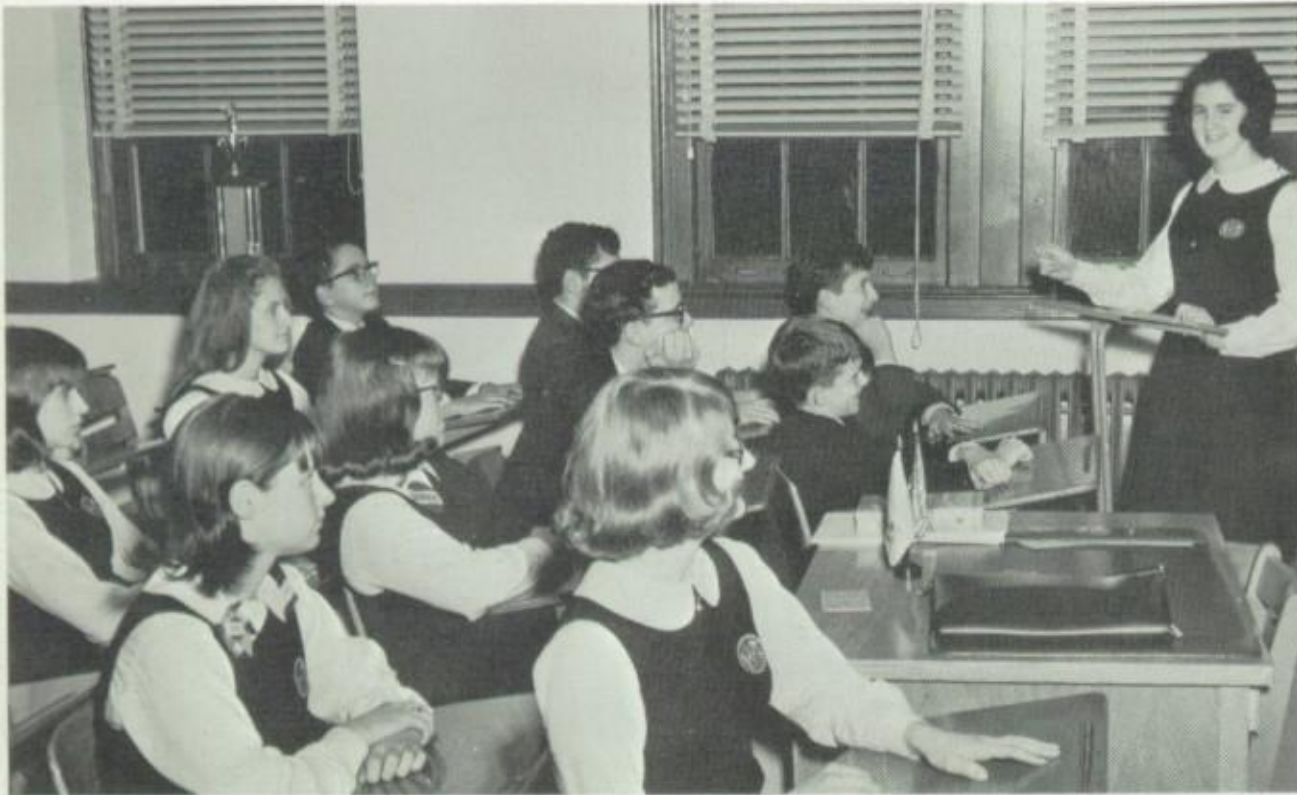

ELIZA (Nina Pappas) is assisted by that hairy hound from Budapest, Karpathy (Robert Grebloski), as Catherine McGuire, Charles Gough, Michael Brennan, Edward Bradshaw, Frank Selgrade and Joe Horan look on.

Below Left:

"WILL YOU PLEASE GIVE THESE to Eliza?" Freddy (Gerard Petronko) asks Mrs. Pearce (Candy Corotta).

POOR PROFESSOR HIGGINS! The chorus expresses sympathy. Ruth Ann Mekosh, Theresa Blase; (back row) Rita Shemonis, Kathy Klee-man, Teresa Karas, Candida Corotta, Maria Chesla and Marina Vernalis.

NORA COYNE pounds the rostrum to emphasize a point for other Ex-temporaneous Club speakers.

CLUBS

"SHOULD THE TABLE for the Paris peace talks be round or square?" Albert Dillard proposes the question to members of Declamation and Original Oratory groups.

CHEMISTRY CLUB experiment puzzles James Hughes. Mary Catherine Coughlin, Francis Woodward, Trish Mattu and Robert McCormick perform experiment.

JOANN BURKEVAGE and Marie Ambrose demonstrate a Spanish dance for Spanish Club members who anxiously await the finale.

FRENCH CHRISTMAS CAROLS are rendered by members of the French Club, led by Edward Bradshaw, vice-president; Theresa Blase, secretary; Marina Vernalis, Mary Catherine Carey, president, and Bill Rudiman, treasurer.

"YOU MUST BE a vampire, Joseph Kreisher! Your picture doesn't appear on the TV," says Sharon Mullins. Both assist with the audio-visual equipment.

"I WONDER if this is how DaVinci started," thinks Bill Groody as Marlene Todd, Micky Kleeman and Kathy Lesko assist with an Art Club print.

"OOOOH!" Tom Barrett exclaims over helmets examined by members of the History Club, Peter Marin, John Bartholomew and Chris Ives. Mr. George is moderator.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

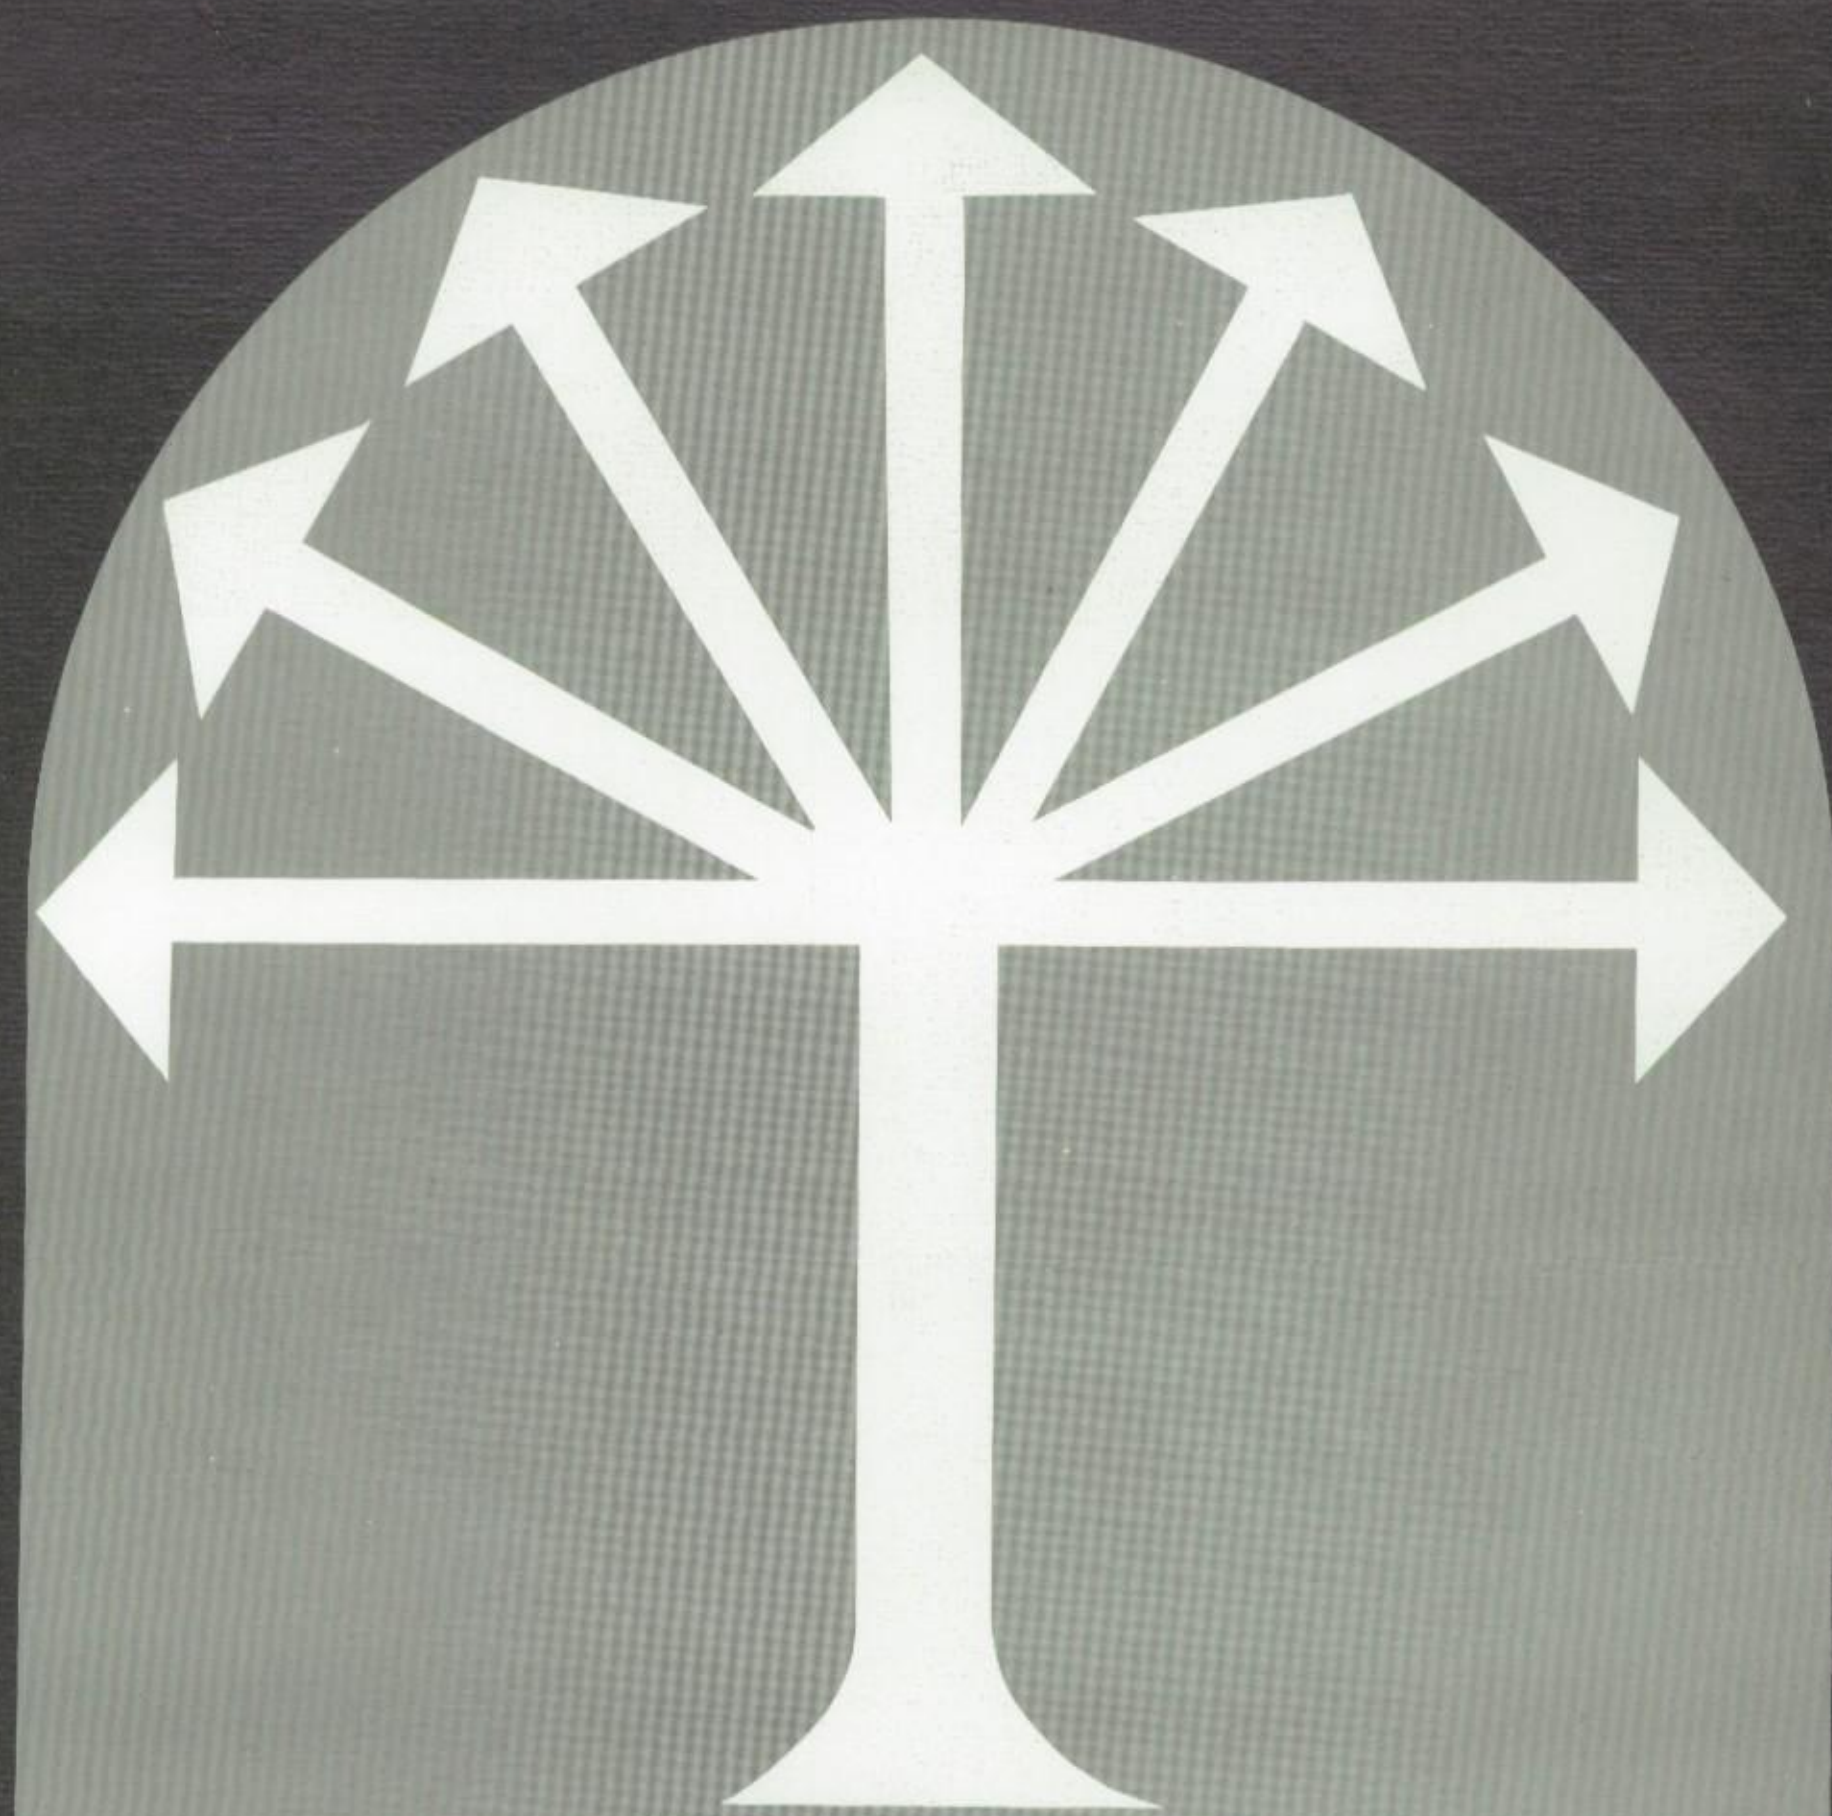

REALLY, the Honor Society doesn't play with toys all year 'round—only during the toy drive it sponsors at Christmas time. Marlene Todd, John Dwyer, John Morris, Linda Orlofski, Anne Marie Walsh, Ed Bradshaw, Ann Neary, Deborah Kosick, Candy Corotta and Peter Coughlin.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY officers light candles on the Advent wreath. Paul Domalakes, president; Judy Schilling, secretary; Patty Butler, treasurer; George Schilling, vice-president.

INDUCTION of Society members. Father Ferry presides; Sister Maria Corona moderates.

SPORTS

TO EXIST AND THRIVE

PETE COUGHLIN tackled during game against Lourdes. Mike Gerrity (80) at right.

OOOPS! One stayed up, but Joanne Chikotas gives the signal to her as other cheerleaders, cold but happy, do their stuff. Patrice Kempsey, Mary Ellen Matunis, Maria Chesla, Bonnie Merchlinsky, Cindy Leschik, Joanne, Diane Twardzik, Mary Jo Talerico.

MIKE GERRITY (80) and Charlie Steinhilber (40) set up for play against Halifax at Ashland Memorial Field.

HOMECOMING QUEEN Theresa Blase accepts roses from Don Wood. Runners-up include Arlene Cicioni, Linda Orlofski, Diane Pelly, and Barbara Vaughan. Michael Gerrity and John Reese assist in the presentation.

LEFT END opponents move in on Tom Hoffman (21).

A DEDICATED FACULTY gathers to approve the results of their support from the dedication of the school to the graduation of the first class of Cardinal Brennan High School.

CLASS REPRESENTATIVES bear symbols of ideals of church and nation.

LEADERSHIP, character, scholarship and service are indicated by the candles Paul Domalakes lights, as the goals of the Class of 1969. Patty Butler and Judy Schilling assist.

TO COME TO BE

The students of Cardinal Brennan High School have prepared the way for future growth. They have freely accepted increased responsibility and have used their best efforts to form Cardinal Brennan into a good school.

Each individual has accepted the worthwhile traditions of other times, and has proved his willingness to help the prosperous growth of a new school.
